

Join the thousands of member Faith-Based Organizations

CRN is an initiative of the First Step Act (FSA) of 2018 to serve as an informational clearinghouse for reentry referrals and mentoring support for returning citizens across the nation and U.S. territories.

Our Mission

To build a network of faith-based organizations that deliver recidivism reduction programming for justice-impacted individuals ensuring their successful reintegration in our society.

As a group dedicated to supporting you in fulfilling your mission, we at the Community Reentry Network (CRN) welcome you and invite you to explore crn.reentry.gov.

There, you'll learn about other faith-based organizations that are also in the CRN—more than 3,000 of them, all across the country, providing vital services to people returning from prison.

To help us serve you and your clients better, please search for your faith-based organization and make sure your information is correct. If updates are needed, email them to bop-crn-support-s@bop.gov.

Once again, thank you for being part of the CRN. Together, we can help you serve more people than ever.
